First Ever Art Exhibit Opening at Cleveland City Hall

CLEVELAND – Mayor Frank G. Jackson's Art in Everything series presents Eco-Art: Art in Response to the Ecological Crisis. This will be the first-ever art exhibit, opening reception to be held in Cleveland City Hall. This exhibit represents the marriage of the richness of Cleveland's art and culture with the importance of creating a more sustainable environment. This union is cleverly expressed through unique artwork created from recycled objects and discovered materials.
